SUBJECT : General Product Safety Regulation EU 2023/988

The new General Product Safety Regulation EU 2023/988 is entering into force on December 13th 2024.

In order to guarantee the compliance to this regulation, the Cookware business unit has always satisfied to the applicable standards in terms of safety of the products and deploys specific processes for all its products commercialized in the European Union and beyond. It covers all Pots and Pans products, all Pressure cookers and all kitchen tools and devices not connected to electricity of our Tefal brand.

A risk analysis is systematically carried out for the development of any new product or for a modification of design of an existing product. This risk analysis results in the implementation of technical means to mitigate, reduce or eliminate the safety risks which are registered into the technical documentation of the product.

All products are accompanied with Safety instructions or Use & Care instructions to inform and guide the consumers of the good practices of use, cleaning and preservation of the products, to prevent, in particular, any safety risk during a normal use.

Concerning the Food Contact risk, all our Cookware products comply with all the European regulations in place, of which we can list the main ones like the European Regulation EU 1935/2004 for materials and articles intended to come in contact with food, the European regulation EU 10/2011 for plastic materials and articles intended to come in contact with food, or the EDQM guidelines for metals.

About the pressure cookers category, all products fulfill the European norm EN 12778 requirements in other to comply to the European Directive EU 2014/68. They are registered under a CE certificate to demonstrate this compliance.
